

BANK IS SUED FOR ROSENHEIMER FUNDS

Father of Grace Hough Alleged Conspiracy to Avoid Judgment of $7,362.

GIRL KILLED BY AUTO

Walter B. Hough, father of Miss Grace Hough, who was killed on August 18, 1910, when an automobile driven by Edward T. Rosenheimer struck a carriage in which she was riding, started unusual proceedings yesterday to try to collect judgment for $7,362, obtained against Rosenheimer in the Supreme Court in June, 1912.

The execution in the case was returned unsatisfied because Rosenheimer had previously filed a petition in bankruptcy. His bankruptcy plea was denied last February, but Hough's attorney has been unable to get trace of any property. Rosenheimer's mother died a few months ago, leaving a large estate, but she cut him off and left his share to his wife.

The suit filed by Hough is against Rosenheimer, the Greenwich Bank and others. The complaint states that at the time of the killing of Miss Hough Rosenheimer had a $10,000 policy with the General Accident, Fire and Insurance Corporation of Perth, Scotland, insuring his car against accidents. The American headquarters of the company is in Philadelphia.

Hough alleges that Rosenheimer secreted large sums immediately after the accident occurred and that agents of the insurance company assured him that Rosenheimer had a policy and that if Hough would look to the insurance company instead of to Rosenheimer the company would see that Hough got all the money due under the policy. Hough says that as a result of this assurance he neglected taking steps to sue in his daughter's behalf for three months. He charges that the insurance agents made these representations as a result of conspiracy with Rosenheimer in order to give him an opportunity to dispose of his property.

The complaint states that Rosenheimer subsequently assigned the policy to his wife, Arville M. Rosenheimer, and that she assisted in perpetrating a fraud on the plaintiff by going to Philadelphia and making a settlement with the company for $5,000. It is alleged that Mrs. Rosenheimer deposited this money in the Union Dime Savings Bank as trustee for her husband, and that in order to make it difficult for creditors to trace the fund she later deposited it in the Greenwich Savings Bank and finally in the Greenwich Bank, where it is held now in trust for Vincent Rosenheimer, a son. Hough asks that the assignment of the policy to Mrs. Rosenheimer be set aside and that the bank be compelled to pay it over to him.

PATERSON JOURNALS UNITE.

"Press," Republican, and "Guardian," Democratic, Now One.

PATERSON, N. J., Sept. 27.—The Paterson Press-Guardian, a consolidation of the Paterson Press and the Paterson Guardian, two evening newspapers, made its appearance for the first time today and the plant of the Guardian was closed. The Press was always ironbound Republican and the Guardian was one of New Jersey's strongest Democratic organs. In a salutatory to-day the Press-Guardian announces its independence, causing somewhat of a surprise in newspaper circles, as the editorial staff of the Press remains intact. There are now two evening newspapers here, the other being the Paterson Evening News, which is also independent. Both of the Passaic evening newspapers, the Passaic News and Passaic Herald, are also independent.

CREDIT MAN ADMITS THEFT.

Stolen $1,369 Spent on Broadway and on a Girl, He Says.

Henry Schneider, for four years credit man for the silk firm of Petrol, Butler & Co. at 260 Fourth avenue, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detective Thomas and later confessed to Assistant District Attorney Ellison that he was guilty of stealing $1,369 from his firm. Schneider is 21 years old and lives with his parents at 454 Forty-second street, Brooklyn. He admitted that after he got the money out of the firm's safe he deposited $500 in the German Exchange Bank and the balance he spent along Broadway and in buying jewelry for a girl whose name he gave to the District Attorney. The money was stolen October 16 last. The firm knew the money had been stolen by some one on the inside but no trace of the thief could be found. Last week a fellow employee of Schneider sought the head of the firm and told him that Schneider had confessed the crime to him. The name of this clerk has been withheld for the present.

After telling his story to Mr. Ellison Schneider was taken before Judge Mason in General Sessions and committed to the Tombs in default of $3,000 bail.

SINGER'S SON NOT WORRIED.

Schumann-Heink, Suspended Court Clerk, Sure Books Are O. K.

PATERSON, N. J., Sept. 27.—William Surosky, an accountant, to-day took possession of the room formerly occupied by Henry Schumann-Heink, suspended police court clerk, and began an audit of the latter's books. Schumann-Heink, who is the son of Mme. Ernestine Schumann-Heink, the famous contralto, was suspended by Recorder James P. Carroll last Saturday on the advice of the police and commissioners. It is expected that four weeks will be required to finish the investigation. George B. Stinson, president of the police and fire commissioners, to-day refused to say anything about the case. Neither would other members of the board or Recorder Carroll. "It can all easily be explained," said Schumann-Heink, referring to his case, but adding that his lawyers advised him not to talk about it. "My conscience is clear. Why should I worry?" Schumann-Heink and his bride have left their home in this city temporarily and are now occupying his mother's estate at Singing.

MELON FOR NATIONAL SURETY.

Directors Propose Increase of Stock to $3,000,000.

The board of directors of the National Surety Company at a special meeting yesterday recommended to stockholders that the capital stock of the company be increased from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 by offering to stockholders 10,000 shares at $150 per share. This would give the company $1,500,000 more capital and surplus. It is believed that this action will make the National Surety Company the largest and strongest surety company in the world. The subscription price is in the neighborhood of $75 per share below the market value of the stock.

VILLAGE GOSSIPS DENOUNCED.

Woman Criticizes Talkative Neighbors in Advertisement.

HAVERTHAW, Sept. 27.—Mrs. W. J. Harris of Garverville, Rockland county, inserted advertisements in the village newspapers to-day denouncing certain persons in the village who, the advertisement says, are slandering Mrs. William Baisley, who is ill in a hospital. Mrs. Harris is Mrs. Baisley's mother. After threatening to have the gossips to court and forcing them to try to prove the stories they are circulating, the advertisement continues: "All these parties have to do is to stand over their gates all day and peek at their neighbors all night to see what they can find to talk about next day."

WALTERS SEES END OF TRIALS IN SOUTH

Atlantic Coast Line's Chairman Thinks Improvement Has Begun.

Henry Walters, chairman of the Atlantic Coast Line, who had never before been known to talk or write for publication, had the following to say yesterday in a statement to the Wall Street Journal:

"The South, after a year of the strictest economy, has, in my opinion, seen the worst of its trials and a reasonably steady improvement has begun. "In the last thirty days the Birmingham district shows a marked improvement, due possibly to the shortage elsewhere of pig iron, and the lumber industry is at last showing increased orders and better prices.

"The satisfactory manner in which cotton prices are holding in the face of the loss of sales to Germany and Austria is giving confidence to all Southern merchants and giving good profits to the producers, whose last year the latter were almost lost.

"Present crop is the cheapest raised since 1895, when the cost of production was $1.00 per bushel. "I do not see how the cotton crop now picking can exceed 12,000,000 bales, in view of the great decrease in acreage, as reported by the government and the use of only one-half the usual amount of fertilizers.

"I understand many of the Northern mills realize this and are buying freely at present prices.

"Too much stress cannot be laid upon the benefit to the 'Cotton South' from the experience of last year. "Permanent warehouses already constructed, or which are now nearing completion, in the South will care for more than 5,000,000 bales under perfect conditions and at insurance rates of about one-quarter of one per cent.

"The Allies should be given a credit by this country of $1,000,000,000, or more if they require it, upon such terms as will make all sections of the country subscribe liberally to it, according to their means, and no sections are more interested in the establishment of this credit than the cotton and grain growing States, especially the latter, which are likely to have serious competition from Argentina and the Black Sea unless this credit be given promptly and wholeheartedly."

B. R. T. FARES SHOW DECREASE.

Only Two Lines Add Business in Year Ended June 30.

The number of fares collected by the Brooklyn Rapid Transit Company on its elevated roads in the year ended June 30 was $2,021,824, a decrease of 2,678,848 from the previous year, according to the company's statement. The daily average for the year was 497,152, against 505,031 for the preceding year. The only lines from which increases are reported are the Centre street loop, which jumped 4,236,990 for the year to a total of 17,681,615, and the Canarsie line, which gave an increase of 273,941.

ROCK ISLAND RECEIVER QUILTS.

Court Defers Action on Application of H. U. Mudge.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—H. U. Mudge, one of the receivers for the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway, has offered his resignation. Judge George A. Carpenter of the United States District Court, under whose direction the receivers were appointed, refused to accept the resignation until he can consult with the other receiver, Jacob M. Dickinson.

WEINGART ESTATE IS FOUND IN A TANGLE

Appraiser's Report Shows Lace Merchant Heavily Involved at Death.

Isaac Weingart, a lace merchant, who died at 285 Central Park West on November 6, 1913, under circumstances which led a life insurance company to resist payment of $40,000 on the ground that he was a suicide, was heavily involved at the time, according to a report filed yesterday by Transfer Tax appraiser Berwin. The report shows that out of the total assets of $113,147 in the estate, $93,147 was in life insurance, and that he was indebted to his firm, Leumann, Borsch & Weingart, of 122 Fifth avenue, about $190,000.

Mr. Weingart's account with his firm showed that large advances of the firm's money had been made to the Interborough Building Company, and the repayment of this money to the firm was guaranteed by Weingart on the ground that the payments were made at his instance. The amount so paid was $109,252, and in addition there was an overdraft against Mr. Weingart's account of $196,747. He owed the firm a total of $396,000, not subject to the deduction of his interest.

Mr. Weingart's will left $25,000 each to his wife, Hattie Weingart, and his children, Ruth and Richard Weingart, while the residuary estate was to go to Mrs. Weingart for life and then to the children. When Mr. Weingart died it was announced that the estate was in a state of confusion. In defending a suit for $40,000 insurance a company holding policies for that amount alleged that the deceased's body had been found in a bathtub full of water.

HUNT BRUERE'S PROTEGE.

Police Seek City Chamberlain Employee on Forgery Charge.

The police are searching for Herbert Flynn, 24, and recently married, an employee in the office of City Chamberlain Bruere, living at 725 Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn, who, Mr. Bruere says, forged jury checks for $2,800. His salary was $540 a year. Search is also being made for other men who are thought to be connected with the case.

The city will lose nothing, as Flynn was bonded for $5,000. According to a statement issued yesterday, the thefts have nothing to do with any of the city employees by a new check system. The checks were all for amounts from $30 to $50.

"Flynn looked like a clean cut young fellow to me," said Mr. Bruere yesterday, "and while I did not know that he had been married I often tried to get more pay for him, but he could not pass the examinations. I would rather lose my right arm than have anything like this happen in my office, and I shall not rest until young Flynn is caught."
